

Legacy Health Profile

Legacy Health, the largest nonprofit, community-owned health system serving the Portland-Vancouver area and the mid-Willamette Valley, seeks to improve our community by helping people live healthier and better lives.

To support good health, Legacy provides a range of services not found in any other single system: multiple hospitals, a children's hospital, primary and urgent care, and complete medical specialties.

We partner with many groups to build a healthier community for all. Plus, we value diversity and innovation as we look for ways to improve health care and create a legacy of health for all.
