The new building features a terrace garden, giving the Legacy Emanuel campus five such gardens and expanding Legacy’s role as an international pioneer in the use of healing gardens.

The hospital is quiet by design — special design features and the elimination of overhead messages reduce noise.

A combination of soothing and uplifting color schemes feature the Pacific Northwest’s geography, using coast, valley, mountain and desert themes.

A one-of-a-kind art collection selected specifically to promote a healing environment.

Caring for the community
Randall Children’s Hospital has a mission to improve the health of our community and our world. Our new home meets this mission by:

• Providing specialized care for the sickest and most vulnerable children in Oregon and from throughout the Pacific Northwest.

• Contributing to neighborhood development — rebuilding our streets with new lighting, landscaping and walkways.

• Incorporating dozens of sustainable design features in the hospital. For example, rainwater is collected on the roof to create a fountain in the terrace garden.

• Offering award-winning safety programs — car safety seat checks, bicycle helmet fittings, burn safety classes, teen driving classes, a “Safety Store” for home products and much more.

Welcome to the new home for Randall Children's Hospital at Legacy Emanuel. Centrally located in the heart of Portland, we have long been a leader in caring for children — with nearly 100,000 patient visits each year.

Our new home offers an innovative approach to children's health care. A place where complex medical and surgical care is blended with a peaceful environment to create a new world of healing and health.

Randall Children's Hospital is large enough to care for our growing community, now and in the future:

• Our new home is four times the size of our previous space — with nine stories and 334,000 square feet.
• All of the rooms, except those for newborn twins, are private; 165 beds in all.
• The hospital's three "Lantern Lounges" give families home-like spaces with kitchens and ample natural light. We also have a wellness center for families, several playrooms, a classroom, a teen center, an art therapy studio and even a theater.
• A 425-vehicle parking structure provides convenient access to the hospital.

Everything for children's health
For generations, Randall Children's Hospital has been a regional leader in the care of infants, children and teens. Our new home matches the excellent care provided by our doctors, nurses and staff. Features include:

• A 25-bed Children's Day Surgery Unit
• A 24-bed Pediatric Intensive Care Unit

• A Children's Emergency Department more than twice its previous size and completely separate from adult emergency care. With 22 private rooms, the department is staffed 24 hours a day by doctors and nurses who specialize in children's emergency care.
• The area's highest level of care for premature and critically ill newborns. Neonatal care in our new home is enhanced, with 31 private rooms, and seven rooms for twins, all with beds and amenities for parents.
• The hospital provides a wide range of services for the most complex medical and surgical issues. We have specialists in virtually every field of children's medicine, including:
  — Heart
  — Cancer
  — Neurology
  — Orthopedics
  — Neonatal and pediatric intensive care
  — Surgical specialties
  — Rehabilitation and development … and more

Built for better care
The new home for Randall Children's Hospital includes many innovations to create a peaceful, soothing environment — proven to help young patients heal faster:

• Private patient rooms feature extra-large windows with views, natural light and plenty of space for family members to stay with their child.
