Focus on healing

Our patients receive personal and compassionate care, based on the latest research, from the community's best doctors. Our cancer program is designed to support patients, both physically and emotionally, during their entire healing journey.

Legacy Mount Hood: cancer care

According to the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer, Legacy Health ranks among the nation's top cancer programs. This accreditation means our patients receive award-winning care, without having to travel far from home.

Legacy Mount Hood provides the entire spectrum of cancer care, from screening and diagnosis to treatment and recovery support. We continue to implement medical advances and cutting-edge technology that saves lives. Our Breast Health Center has reduced-radiation 3-D mammography, which detects cancer earlier when treatment is most successful. And, we are playing an active role in community education by providing convenient access to preventative colon cancer screenings.

With generous philanthropic support, we continue to enhance Legacy Mount Hood's role as East County's only full-service community hospital and offer services that allow residents to receive high-quality, comprehensive cancer care, close to home.
