A partnership for the future of health

Health care is changing — the changes are complex, challenging and exciting. Legacy Health Partners provides a platform for providers to actively shape their future.
For you, your practice and our community

Legacy Health Partners (LHP) is here to help providers adapt to the changes in health care. We are collaborating with providers to achieve the “Triple Aim” — better care, better health and lower cost. We also want to do more, adding a goal of improved provider and care team job satisfaction and engagement. The addition of this goal is part of what has been coined the “Quadruple Aim.”

Toward that aim, LHP provides an opportunity for providers to actively shape their future. In turn, we hope you will be more satisfied, your practice more successful and the community healthier.

What is Legacy Health Partners?

A clinically integrated network some 2,500 members strong, LHP is a provider-led partnership of independent private practice providers, Legacy Medical Group and Legacy Health.

Legacy Health Partners is unique in that it allows providers to practice in their chosen model. Three-quarters of LHP’s members are independently practicing providers serving patients across a wide geographic area.

The goal of Legacy Health Partners is “delivering value and improving health.” The keys to achieving this are collaboration and a shared focus on quality delivered through a coordinated, clinically integrated network.

What makes LHP successful?

• The collective commitment by providers to enhancing performance on a set of meaningful performance measures.

• An operational infrastructure to help providers be successful. This support includes staff, provider-led governance, data and technology, and in-clinic consultation.

• The ability to negotiate favorable performance-based contracts that recognize the value of better health across a population.

"As reimbursement models evolve toward supporting value over volume, Legacy Health Partners is committed to helping practices succeed in these arrangements. By bringing providers together to collaborate, we can collectively deliver high-value care that is affordable.”

Nick Kashey, M.D.
LHP medical director

How is LHP unique?

• Provider-led: All LHP programs are developed by a diverse and representative group of providers.

• Provider support: The network is supported by data analytics, field operations advisers, population health services, and clinical and administrative resources.

• Proven performance: LHP providers are improving performance on health care metrics that matter: cancer screenings, well-child visits, reduced hospital stays and increased generic prescribing.

• Financial stability and growth: LHP can take advantage of existing and pending contracts with payors and employers, and negotiate with new payors on behalf of the network.

• Practice growth: LHP offers physicians access to a wide geographic reach of patients and new referrals from network providers.

• Backed by Legacy: LHP leverages Legacy’s existing record of quality and efficiency, information technology services and dedicated staffing.
