Legacy LabAlert
An Important Update from Legacy Laboratory Services

Ordering Supplies

In compliance with Federal regulations, we cannot provide supplies for in-office testing/use or if the specimen is referred to a non-Legacy Laboratory.

Each Legacy courier uses a point to point tracking device that assures timely delivery of each specimen to a testing site. The device also records the type and quantity of specimen containers picked up at each location. If the amount of supplies provided to, or requested by, a particular location does not match the historical amount of ordered testing, we will:

- Adjust the amount and/or frequency of provided supplies
- Send a copy of this LabAlert with the next supply order
- Notify your account representative or client services for further follow up including utilization review.

Supplies for collecting and shipping specimens to our network of regional laboratories may be ordered through the Supply Distribution Center. Please visit our website at www.legacyhealth.org\labservices. Choose Collection Guidelines from the menu and then Ordering Supplies.
