An Important Message from Legacy Laboratory Services

Time Sensitive Specimen Processing

Most laboratory tests may be collected and processed at client locations. Legacy Laboratory Services offers information, supplies and other tools, including courier service, to support client in-house specimen collection and referrals to our laboratory.

It is the responsibility of the collection site to assure specimen stability and quality through appropriate specimen processing according to test table requirements. STAT courier services are not available to support the transport of specimens for timely processing at a Legacy Laboratory Services location.

Requests for courier service to accommodate STAT processing will be referred to our client services department for consultation. In many cases, we have found that a client site has misinterpreted collection and stability information and routine courier service will suffice.

LLS also offers 20 conveniently located patient service centers. Please consider referring patients with orders for complex or time sensitive specimen processing requirements to one of these locations. A list of locations is provided on the reverse page.

Thank you for your understanding. Please help us work with you to provide support for your patients' testing needs while reserving our STAT courier resources for life threatening emergencies. For additional information, please contact your account representative or call client services at 503-413-1234 or 1-800-270-5566.
