

My life My Legacy

Taking care of things — and people

This is Maria G. Perez. She likes multitasking and caring for people.

Good thing, because she does so morning, noon and night.

By day, she is a medical assistant at Legacy Medical Group—Mount Hood, helping primary care patients have a successful appointment. “When I talk to them with a smile, it relaxes them and helps them open up to the doctor.”

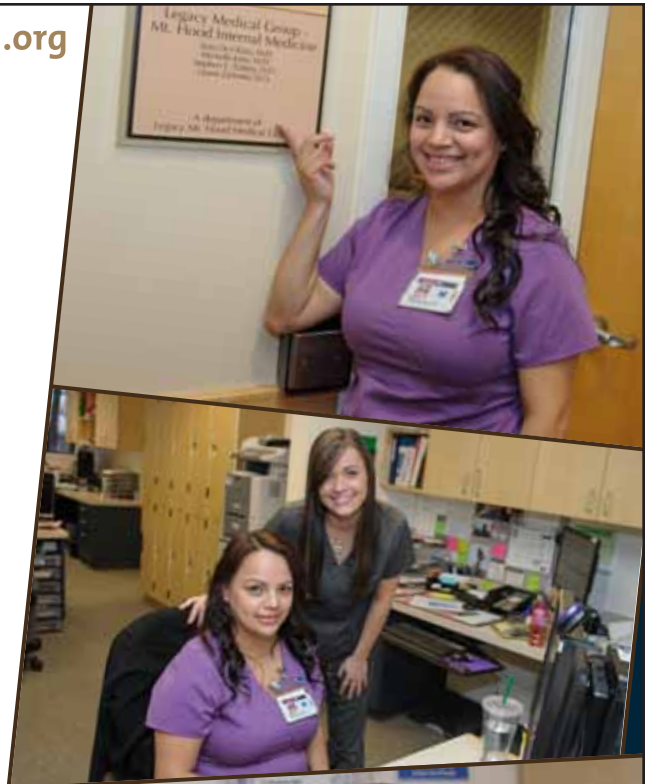

All other times, she is a mom of four kids, including one small child. “It’s like a super-job, but I have patience for all of them.”

How does she do it?

“I’ve always wanted to help people. It’s just what I do.”

This is her life. And this is her Legacy.

Our legacy is yours.
