Legacy Mount Hood Medical Center Cancer Services

Focus on healing

All our patients receive personal and compassionate care based on the latest research from the community's best doctors. Our cancer program is designed to support patients, both physically and emotionally, during their entire healing journey.

Legacy Mount Hood: cancer care

Legacy Health ranks among the nation's top cancer programs, according to the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer, the respected authority on cancer care. This accreditation means our patients receive award-winning, comprehensive cancer care in their own backyard.

Legacy Mount Hood Medical Center provides specialized cancer care in two major areas. We are at the forefront of breast cancer medical advances, with cutting-edge technologies and integrated care models. We also offer comprehensive care for colon cancer, which includes the critical need for awareness and preventive screenings in our community.

With generous philanthropic support, we will continue to enhance Legacy Mount Hood's role as East County's only full-service community hospital. With your help, Legacy Mount Hood can continue to provide preventive screenings, education and critical services for residents to receive their cancer care close to home.
