A PLACE WHERE HOPE AND HEALING BEGIN

CARES Northwest is a community-based medical program for the assessment, treatment and prevention of child abuse. We provide a safe, welcoming environment for children alleged to have been abused, neglected or had exposure to domestic violence.

A CARING COLLABORATION

Founded in 1987, the program is a collaborative effort among four of the region’s leading health systems — Kaiser Permanente, OHSU Doernbecher Children’s Hospital, Providence Children’s Health, and Randall Children’s Hospital at Legacy Emanuel. Coordinating experts in medicine, mental health, child protective services and law enforcement agencies, CARES Northwest ensures children obtain needed professional services in one child-friendly location. This approach to intervention increases effectiveness, which minimizes trauma to the child, helps prevent future abuse and sets them on the road to healing.

CARES Northwest is one of the largest child abuse assessment centers in the nation, serving more than 5,000 children annually.
